Forecast for Friday 30 Oct 2020

Weather: Cloudy start with patchy light rain, the rain breaking up into light showers with these turning wintry on the summits. The rest of the day will become bright with cloud breaking further to allow some sunshine at times, though still with a few showers, and cold enough for these to be of snow above 800m. The evening mainly dry with largely clear skies and just the odd patch of summit cloud, and just the odd light shower towards the west coast and Isles.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: Around 40% by dawn with occasional or periods above 600m, and then 70% from late morning with only occasional patches of cloud on the tops mainly near showers.

Visibility: Good falling to several kilometres in early rain and wintry showers.
